This five-part series on Growth and Exit Strategies that Maximize Company and Deal Value was developed by Generational Group's investment bankers who have hundreds of years of combined experience in creating strategies that help businesses grow and preparing businesses for a successful sale. For businesses that need to grow, they create a 3-5 year plan that prioritizes the most important strategies. Participants will learn about the key elements for businesses that are going to market to be sold, they have deep expertise in preparing the seller's financials, marketing the business to a qualified network of buyers and negotiating all parts of the deal. This course is taught to 75-100 business owners each week, 50 weeks a year.

Content is developed by a subject matter expert and reviewed by qualified persons outside of the development team.

Content is based on relevant learning objectives and outcomes.

At the end of module one, Business Valuation Financial Drivers, participants will be able to explain the key elements that affect valuation like timing, interest rates, inflation, and taxes. They will also be able to explain the limitations of using multiples to value a business.
